DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This is in response to amendment received on 07/21/06. Claim 1 has been amended and claims 4 and 5 have been cancelled. Claims 1-3, 6 and 7 are examined below.

Specification

2. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: in claim 1 the "t-shape" is not supported in the specification.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: the instep of the toe is not the top part of the toes, the instep is the side of the toe. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 1-3, 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is unclear how the toe section can be knitted completely into a flat tubular shape, yet have a bulge section formed therein to create a t-shape. How can a t-shaped toe portion be a completely flat tubular shape?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-3 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takeda et al. (US 6,000,247).

In regard to claim 1, Takeda et al. teaches a sock (10) comprising a toe section that covers the toes and is knitted completely into a flat tubular shape and the toe section includes a sole section covering the bottom part of the toes and an instep section covering the top part of the toes (figures 1A-1C). A bulge section (20a, 20b) being formed with the toe section so as to be in a t-shape when viewed in a side view in the middle part in the length direction of the toes in a location such that it covers the bottom half of the toes (figures 1A-1C).

In regard to claim 2, Takeda et al. teaches the bulge section being formed such that it gradually becomes thinner from the side of the large toe toward the side of the little toe (column 5, lines 30-67 through column 6, lines 1-20).

Art Unit: 3765

In regard to claim 3, Takeda et al. teaches the bulge section formed such that it has an arc shape that protrudes downward (figure 1B).

In regard to claim 6, Takeda et al. teaches the toe section being formed such that it is divided into a first insert section into which the large toe is inserted, and a second insert section into which the other toes are inserted (figures 3A-3C). The bulge sections are formed in both the first insert section and the second insert sections (34a, 34b, 32a, 32b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takeda et al. in view of Nordblad (US 1,314,356).

Takeda et al. teaches a sock with bulge as described above in claim 1. However, Takeda et al. fails to teach the toe section is formed such that is divided into five sections for each individual toes and where the bulge sections are formed for each of the five insert sections.

In regard to claim 7, Nordblad teaches a sock with toe section being formed such that is divided into five sections for each individual toes (figures 1-3).

It would have been obvious to have provided the sock with bulge of Takeda et al. with the five toe sections of Nordblad, since the sock with bulge of Takeda et al. having five toe sections instead of two would provide for a sock that separates the toes so that rubbing is reduced and therefore more comfort is provided to the user toe's when wearing the sock article.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3, 6 and 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

11. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
